

Investment Philosophy

We believe that long/short portfolios may achieve positive relative returns, consistent with reasonable risk to principal, that are less volatile and less dependent on broader market direction than long-only portfolios.

Investment Strategy

- Utilizes proprietary, sector-specific models to identify stocks with the potential to outperform (long positions) and underperform (short positions), based on a combination of valuation, fundamental, earnings and technical characteristics.
- Optimizes the portfolio to provide broad diversification across sectors, industries and individual companies.
- Initial equal weight positions.

Product Highlights

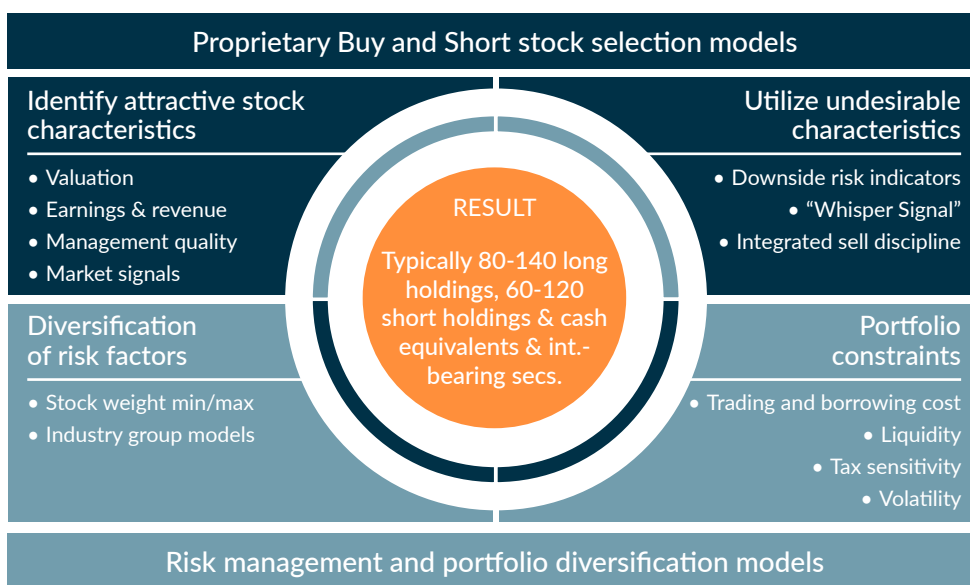

- Potential to enhance diversification and return, and potentially reduce volatility.
- Proprietary long and short ranking models.
- Proprietary “Whisper Signal” analysis seeking to identify potential earnings surprises (negative and positive).
- Targets approximately 100% long, 70% short positions.

The Long/Short Equity Composite objective is to use long and short equity positions based on proprietary multi-factor stock ranking models, overlaid with upside and downside risk screens, to achieve long-term capital appreciation consistent with reasonable risk to principal. Prior to 12/31/2024, the strategy was known as Glenmede Quantitative U.S. Long/Short Equity.

The Russell 3000 Index is an unmanaged, market value weighted index, which measures total return performance of the 3,000 companies that are largest in the market. One cannot invest directly in an index.
